

Tuesday wrap-up: Three teams in the lead at 2016 National Finals

Tue, 05 Jul 2016 - 5:58 PM CST

Nine rounds of play in the main round-robin draw are completed Tuesday evening at the 2016 Assemblies of God Teen Bible Quiz National Finals at Evangel University, and three teams are tied atop the race for the championship.

Ozark, Mo. James River Church's "Driving You Insane" team, which is seeking a record fourth straight national championship for the church, is tied with Maple Lane Assembly of Deposit, N.Y. and New Day Assembly of Upper St. Clair, Penna. with matching 8-1 won-lost records. Just behind that threesome with 7-2 marks are Community Church of Mt. Pocono, Penna. and Bothell, Wash. Cedar Park Church "Savage Northwestern SIRS."

Solomon Stevens of Maple Lane leads the individual standings with a 97.78 point average per game, having "quizzed out" in every game — correctly answering five questions and earning bonus points.

In the Challenger Division, First Assembly of East Lansing, Mich. is the lone unbeaten team. Jonathan Zhu of Cedar Park's "That's Debatable" team leads the individual standings with 95.56 points per game and nine quiz-outs.

Play continues Wednesday with eight rounds, followed by the last two-round robin games Thursday morning. Those games are then followed by the Challenger Division title game played at the same time as the Championship Division semifinal games. The losing semifinal teams meet in the third-place match, followed by the national championship game scheduled for 12:15 p.m. Central Time.
